Dear Friends and Shipmates:-

I much regret that the invitation to the Annual Meeting of December 13th arrived here too late for me to either make plans to attend, or reply RSVP by December 3rd. I am glad to see the Polynesian Voyaging Society emerge from its initial difficulties to become a major cultural force. My intention is to get a copy of Mr. B. R. Finney's book, "Hokule'a: The Way to Tahiti, and wonder if it is an objective work.

Aloha-ly yours,

Dear Marlene,

I got your membership letter so I want to get it right back to you. When you get a newsletter made up you can send it to the address on the form.

Its getting cold here now. We have a snow storm going on outside now. Its sticking on the ground. Vikki sure had fun playing in it today. She really likes the snow.

We are settled and Im working. Prices sure are alot lower here.

We miss Hawaii but we like it here "

too. Say hello to everyone there for us.

Thank you for your note.

Hokule'a is being prepared for the 1980 voyage and she looks beautiful. The crew will be selected sometime in the middle of November and all plans are going smoothly.

Our office is under staffed (just me), so unfortunately only one newsletter has been published under Volume 6.

I have noted your change of address, and perhaps I will get to meet you in person someday.

Dear Marlene,

I am writing today to give you my new address. Enclosed is a change-of-address card to help you correct your mailing list.

Thank you for sending me the 1979 membership card. I have only received one issue of the PVS Newsletter this year, and that was Vol. 6, No. 1. If there have been other PVS mailings, I would appreciate it very much if you would send them to me.

Best wishes again, and good luck to PVS and the Society's goals. When you get to see or visit HOKULE'A, please give her a pat for me.

As always,
Sincerely,

LaVerne Miller

Aloha Mr. Stevens:

Mahalo for your letter requesting a Hokule'a t-shirt.

Our stock of large sizes is depleted and we will not be reordering until later next year. Hokule'a will be making another voyage to Tahiti in March of 1980, so we are in the process of redesigning another t-shirt.

Please write me again around the first of the year. Until then, I have enclosed your check for $6.00 and thank you for your interest.

Please accept my apologies for the long delay in answering your letter.

As you requested, I have checked the mailing list and the records indicate that you are still on it.

Enclosed for your perusal are the newsletters that were issued in 1978. Unfortunately, it is incomplete. The Society was without employees for over a year and during that time correspondence was misplaced. The volunteers who did manage the office are slowly bringing their files back to the office. If the back issues of the newsletter do appear, I will certainly send them to you.

Again, mahalo nui loa for your interest and membership in the Society.

Aloha!

E kala mai ko'a hoolohi ana!
I thought I had renewed my membership for 1978, but it seems I had confused good intentions with the fact. Enclosed is a check for $25. to cover my dues for 1978 in the rating of Kālai Wa'a - a slight promotion from my previous grade of Holokahiki.

I was stunned when I heard of the swamping of Hōkale'a, and could not believe it at first. But I know everyone concerned is determined that Hōkale'a shall sail again, and as soon as possible. The loss of Eddie Aikan was a tragedy - yet a fitting final act for one who had so many times before put his life on the line to help others in trouble with the sea.

The ride I took on Hokuia in November lasted only 2 hours or so, but it was an experience I shall never forget. Nothing spectacular, of course. There were only moderate swells and a brisk breeze - but the manner in which Hokuia rode the swells made you feel that, once the sails were trimmed for the proper course, she would go on forever, to the end of the ocean. It was as if Hokuia had inherited the 'mana' of the ancestral canoes that carried the early Polynesians across the trackless stretches of ocean to settle the whole wide Pacific at a time when other peoples scarcely dared sail out of sight of land.

Hokuia will sail again, a worthy flagship for the renaissance of the Polynesian spirit and culture. I envy those who will have the priceless privilege of sailing with her.

Sincerely,

MacDonald C. Mains

Dear Ms. Among:

Could you please check up on the status of my membership in the Polynesian Voyaging Society? My records show I sent a check for $10.00 on April 1, 1978. But my April-May copy of the Society News (Vol. 5, No. 3) was sent to my former address at University of Oregon. It was forwarded to me here on Guam.

I believe you should show my membership up to date, and my current address as follows:

Dr. Rebecca Stephenson
Dept. of Anthropology
Univ. of Guam, P.O. Box EK
Agana, Guam 96910

Also, could you please check up on the status of my parents' membership? They are:

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Stephenson

Bemidji, Minnesota 56601

I think their membership has expired. I paid for their original membership. Could you please keep them on the membership rolls, so they will not miss any issue of the Society News, and then bill me for a renewal of membership for my parents.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Stephenson

Mr. Michael A. Tongg, President
Polynesian Voyaging Society
Box 6037
Honolulu, Hawaii 96818

Dear Mr. Tongg:

Since the first newspaper item caught my imagination in 1975, I have followed with great interest the Voyage(s) of "Hokule'a."

I felt worried about "Hokule'a" this time and prayed too. But, I wasn't feeling well myself this past winter and spring, and thought maybe that's why I worried more.

Last Friday's mail brought the April-May 1978 Society News, and I was saddened to learn about the accident and loss of crewmember Eddie Aikau. Enclosed is a sympathy card for Eddie Aikau's family. Would you kindly address the envelope for me and drop it in the mail to his family. If, by the grace of God, he has been found in the meantime, please let me know.

The April-May newsletter was moving and sad, but very interesting and full of hope and plans for the next time. I was glad to receive it. With all the happenings, I can see there hasn't been time to acknowledge this year's membership application. I'll be looking forward to any news you have, especially any items about and pictures of the crewmembers.

Even though I'm a far-away PVS member and can only participate in a small way, I want you to know I care and hope that the goals for "Hokule'a" and what she symbolizes are realized.

With sincere good wishes to all,

LaVerne Miller

CHILDREN'S BOOKS ON POLYNESIAN VOYAGING

by Wailani Bell

As we browse through the reading materials available on the market today, we can't help but get excited with some of the books that are being offered. Authors of children's books are introducing new avenues of expression in writing about the lifestyles and environments of children everywhere. No longer are children limited in their choice of reading materials. Rather, they are exposed to a wealth of enrichment. . . books with meaningful stories. . . pictures and illustrations they identify with. Reading becomes an exciting adventure, enhancing the learning experience rather than a sterile academic exercise.

Here in Hawaii, there is a new upsurge of pride and interest in our cultural heritage. There is an impetus with the younger generation to look back at their origins, searching for a connection between themselves and their ancestors. In rediscovering their roots they are becoming more in touch with themselves. Island educators are developing educational materials built around the relevant interest of our island audiences.

A series of four books were written. The first three books. THE VISION OF MO'IKEHA, A CANOE FOR UNCLE KILA, and THE VOYAGE TO TAHITI sends the reader on a journey through the Polynesian's cultural past. It is based on the oral traditions and genealogy according to tradition of High Chief Mo'ikeha and his family, who migrated from Tahiti to Hawaii. The stories give account of this family. The fourth book is about the HOKULE'A, bringing the reader up to date. The Polynesian Voyaging Society builds Hokule'a and prepares for the 1976 voyage to Tahiti, leaving the reader with a feeling and commitment for the future. The reader is intrigued into thinking how he might feel journeying on the immense Pacific Ocean, the largest and deepest body of water covering more than a third of Aloha, again!

Sometime in April, before I received the latest PVS Newsletter about the accident, I sent you all a letter and a check for $15.00 renewing my membership! I have not received my new membership card and am wondering if my letter + check got lost in the shuffle. I am sure you must have been swamped with mail about Hakeke's Capsize about the time I sent my letter.

Please let me know if you did not receive it so that I can send another check. - Tho I am far away, my heart remains in Hawaii and belonging to PVS means very much to me, even tho I cannot Contribute as much money as I would like. - I am newly divorced, still have 2 younguns, and my budget is stretched out of sight. -

Dear Mate:-

In answer to your request for payment of my dues for 1978, I herewith enclose $10.00 for a paddler's card of membership. Your circular carries mention of Captain Norman Pi'ianaia, which reminded me that I was several months on Baker Island with Abraham Pi'ianaia in 1935. I had charge of the survey of that island for Dr. Dana Coman, leader of the Panairways Oceanographic Expedition to the Equatorial Islands, aboard the Gloucester-built Kinkajou.

I hope the society will recover from the recent disastrous voyage, and that this modest fee will find a useful place in your budget for the next voyage.

All the best and Oia'i'o.

Dear Sirs:

Since I am approaching the time in life when I am faced with the prospect of diminishing income the result of diminishing productivity; since, as an individual entrepreneur with no built-in retirement or cushion against the vicissitudes of old age, I must look to increasing frugality; and, since the government is imposing an ever-increasing tax burden upon us professionals, my wife and I have decided to budget our contributions to worthy causes to a list that we must pare drastically.

This is not to say that any of you are unworthy or not deserving of assistance from people who are dedicated to paying a tithe. However, we have to be realistic about our own capabilities to help others, in the face of avoiding the happenstance of our becoming burdens ourselves.

Therefore, please understand that our previous support of your commendable efforts to do good in this land of ours, must be passed on to the next generation.

Aloha,
