Dear Marlene-

The days are much too busy — and soon I'll be needing to fly to Pepee. I have called several times and listened to your recorded report; I appreciate being able to do at least that. Seems the daily progress is slow so far; I'm grateful they're not in that terrible wind we're having here.

A couple of letters need to be written to individuals who helped out in one way or another.

- ✓ 1. To Junior Mouri, at Hawaiian Air on Maui for the vitamins he gave for crew use
- ✓ 2. To Robert Craig, at Pacific Studies for the 20 free copies which have Rubellite Plerson's article — and will be given away in Jaluti.
- ✓ 3. To Rubellite Plerson thanking her for coming to the Mokeha at the Thompson home and explaining the moikeha tradition to all
- ✓ 4. To George (and Penny) Kalumoku in Hilo — for opening their home and hearts to the needs of the crew while the canoe was there — Hilo 96720 — they got the bananas, the taro, the cane - they assisted in the ceremony - they prepared Maui's food - they drove all over the place - etc, etc, etc.

Perhaps you have fulfilled some of those
"thank you's" already. My thanks to you for your help in all of this.

Can you please let me know what is happening regarding Sam's ticket home - how will that be arranged? Can you advise whether there's anything I should do here and now? Most likely I'll be returning (leaving Papeete) on the 21st of April - the group here is scheduled to depart then; if Hokule'a gets in a week or so before that Sam will be on that plane also.
Please do let me know what I should do.

Malalo and Aloha ho -

Dear Dr. Patzert:

The Polynesian Voyaging Society wishes to express its thanks for your efforts which enabled the Hokule'a to carry an Argos PPT during her voyage to Tahiti. The documentation of the trip will be greatly improved by this data, and, in addition, the safety factor is something which we all appreciate very deeply. Please also convey our thoughts to your colleagues C. J. McNally and P. R. Clark, who we understand contributed valuably to this project.

After a rough beginning - the canoe had to lie to a sea anchor for some hours, with sails down, just south of the Big Island - the trip is going smoothly. As this is written she is 6° south, traveling at 1 knot.

Again, many thanks. We will keep you informed as the voyage goes on.

Mahalo to Mr. Weaver and Spencecliff Corporation for the generous contribution of $100.00 to the Polynesian Voyaging Society.

Your participation will assure the continued success of this worthwhile project which explores the origins and migratory patterns of the early Polynesians. Ultimately, this knowledge can be shared for generations to come.

Thank you again for your support towards our 1980
voyage to Tahiti.

Sincerely,

Gentlemen:

Dr. Thomas H. Hamilton has written to ask if Hawaii Newspaper Agency Charities will assist you in the funding of the Hokule'a's trip to French Polynesia next year.

On behalf of our trustees, representing Honolulu's two daily newspapers, it is a pleasure to forward a check for $500.

As our earlier contribution and the extensive news coverage have already evidenced, we share with you an abiding interest in this latter-day reconstruction of the circumstances that well may have been faced by the courageous early Polynesians as they set out into the unknown vastness of the Pacific.

You have our best wishes as you complete your plans for the 1980 voyage.

POLYNESIAN VOYAGING SOCIETY

The Polynesian Voyaging Society, a unique non-profit community organization, was founded in 1973. The charter of incorporation of the Society was granted by the State of Hawai'i (September 13, 1973) and states that the purposes of the Society are:

- 1) to sponsor or conduct, or both, research on the manner in which Polynesian seafarers settled Hawai'i and other Pacific Islands by investigating through experimental and other means the canoes, navigation systems and other technical and cultural factors that enabled the Polynesians to undertake successful voyages of discovery and settlement;
- 2) and to disseminate the resultant research findings by producing or publishing, or both, articles in scientific journals, books, films and other instruments of communication in order to inform the public about Polynesian voyaging, and to make available data that might be useful to scientists and others engaged in maritime endeavors.

HOKULE'A

A replica of an ancient voyaging craft was constructed to test and document theories and knowledge of the traditional skills related to Polynesian voyaging. This voyaging canoe, Hokule'a (The Star of Gladness), became a warm and life-size realization of a people.

Hokule'a is a large double-hulled canoe, 60 feet long, weighing five and one-half tons, with crab claw sails, and double masts. The hulls are made of cross beams to in, and respect for, the knowledge and skills of the ancient mariners.

1980

Hokule'a again made a long voyage (Hawai'i - Tahiti - Hawai'i) of approximately 6,000 miles. For the first time in perhaps 1000 years, a young Hawaiian was able to successfully navigate in the ancient way along the longest sea route known to have been sailed in ancient times. Just imagine the challenge of such a voyage without the use of any instruments (time pieces, charts, and ~~put~~ included) to aid in the navigation of the Hokule'a.

FINANCIAL CONDITION

It is the stated intention of the Board of Directors that everything concerned with the canoe be done first-class. While it may be expensive in the short run, quality makes for a safer vessel, and savings in the long run.

As an example, <sup>the Society</sup> PVS decided to undergo a total revamping of Hokule'a in 1982 rather than face a series of small repairs in the years to come. Illustrative is the quality of the new i'ako. The old i'ako consisted of 10 laminations...and by 1980, cracks were becoming painfully obvious. The two i'ako that bore the weight of the two masts actually sagged in the middle. Therefore, PVS specified that the new i'ako contain 20 laminations each...with the two i'ako bearing the weight of the masts to have 28 laminations. This gives the new i'ako of Hokule'a both added strength and flexibility. Costly, yes, but best for the long run.

Another example is the manner that Hokule'a is being re-fitted for her new was constructed to test and document theories and knowledge of the traditional skills related to Polynesian voyaging. This voyaging canoe, Hokule'a (The Star of Gladness), became a warm and life-size realization of a people.

Hokule'a is a large double-hulled canoe, 60 feet long, weighing five and one-half tons, with crab claw sails, and double masts. The hulls, iakos (cross beams to join the hulls), lashings, sails, sweeps, paddles and rigging are based on early Polynesian canoe designs.

Hokule'a became a project of total community involvement and achieved for the people of Hawai'i a cultural revitalization and inspirational impact far exceeding the original concept. Hokule'a has successfully demonstrated theories regarding Polynesian voyaging and enlightened the general public about Polynesian migration and settlement. The famous canoe has generated widespread interest throughout the Pacific, and elsewhere, and is a symbol of the people of Hawai'i and a legend in its own time.

1976

In 1976, Hokule'a sailed from Hawai'i to Tahiti and returned to Hawai'i successfully. This voyage was a navigational feat of approximately 6,000 miles and tested both the sailing capabilities of the vessel and ancient navigational skills. The voyage was guided entirely by knowledge of wind, currents and stars. These skills were tested, authenticated and documented for posterity and occasioned a resurgence actually sagged in the middle. Therefore, PVS specified that the new i'ako contain 20 laminations each...with the two i'ako bearing the weight of the masts to have 28 laminations. This gives the new i'ako of Hokule'a both added strength and flexibility. Costly, yes, but best for the long run.

Another example is the manner that Hokule'a is being re-fitted for her new sailing ventures. If the old materials were deemed too worn from the constant exposure to the salt elements, new replacements were bought. Other costly items included flares, electric distress signals, air horns, many flashlights, extra dacron line, nautical and tide charts, fire extinguishers (3), tool sets, gas tanks, life preservers, navigation lites, etc. Subsequent expenditures include anchors, tarpaulins, bilge pumps, side-stern-masthead lights, VHF Radio/Receiver/antenna, batteries, foul weather gear, etc.

After umpteen attempts to repair PVS' outboard motor, it has been deemed useless after failing again off Lanai on 3-26-83. Thus, PVS has purchased a new outboard motor. Such a motor, while at first glance inconsistent with traditional navigation objectives, is necessary for Coast Guard approval to sail between and into various island ports. Hokule'a PVS also needs new sails.

What does this all mean? It means that alot of money is needed. PVS has depleted its treasury to re-fit Hokule'a. At an April Board meeting, the Directors authorized PVS to borrow $7,000+ as a loan. While First Hawaiian Bank has afforded us extremely favorable interest repayment rates, the fact remains that PVS is now substantially in debt and needs your help.

"FRIENDS OF HOKULE'A"

"FRIENDS OF HOKULE'A" are interested individuals or parties who are willing to make a tax deductible contribution of at least $100 between now and the end of September to keep the Polynesian Voyaging Society and the Hokule'a afloat for the next school year.

In the past, the Society has been able to operate on monies from its membership, donations, and grants which have been restrictive as to how funds are used. The Society's policy has been that a strong membership is the best foundation. However, with the cutback in grants and the continued effort necessary to keep Hokule'a in a seaworthy condition and sailing Hawai'i's waters, I am appealing to you to join me in this "voyage of recovery" by becoming a "FRIENDS OF HOKULE'A" contributor.

What do you get in return for your contribution? Hopefully, you will get the satisfaction of knowing that your participation will allow the Society to continue its educational and research efforts. As a "FRIENDS OF HOKULE'A" contributor, you become an indirect participant in carrying out the efforts of the Society. You are a special member that will keep us sailing - both in the classroom and on the high seas.

During this school year the Society will address the following:

1. Continue providing speakers throughout Hawai'i's schools to complement curriculum related to Hawaiian studies and further promote the many skills related to Polynesian voyaging.

2. Continue developing educational the classroom and on the high seas.

During this school year the Society will address the following:

1. Continue providing speakers throughout Hawai'i's schools to complement curriculum related to Hawaiian studies and further promote the many skills related to Polynesian voyaging.
2. Continue developing educational materials for use in the classroom and revision of the "Polynesian Seafaring Heritage" book in which you will be acknowledged.
3. Continue lectures and presentations to the adult community and interested organizations.
4. Finding a suitable home for Hokule'a and continuing field trips by students and teachers to the canoe.
5. Continue sailing Hokule'a inter-island to share the canoe with all of Hawai'i. Develop and train a cadre of people who can sail the Hokule'a and also take advantage of conducting research while at sea.
6. Plan another long voyage to continue research and study in the area of non-instrumental navigation and apply knowledge and skills of early Polynesian mariners in today's world of modern technology.
7. Continue to allow Hawai'i to be a cultural leader for all Pacific people via the efforts of the Society and the voyages of the Hokule'a

As funds prevent us from having an office or support staff at this time, any questions regarding the Polynesian Voyaging Society and the Hokule'a can be directed to me.
