Dear

Please accept my warmest mahalo in acknowledgement of the kokua you contributed in helping to make our first PVS fundraising luau a success. Your time and

I've started planning for next year's luau (smile!) as you know, and hopefully the more people interested, the more involvement and less work for all of us. But, ~~I~~ regardless, ~~hope that we will still be involved to continue to have~~ because we

Dearest Moku and Wally:

This is more a personal note, but I am sure that whatever thanks our board and membership wanted to convey on you both, we would be hard pressed to find the adequate words. You've done so much over the past few years for the Hokule'a, that I personally have a difficult time truly expressing that gratitude. Very simply, we thank you...you are both beautiful people.

In a few short weeks we will have aboard some new faces and new ideas. How great that will be. In turn, the returning board members will have a responsibility to continue the momentum we started way back then. Regardless of whether we return, I wanted to say that those experiences we've shared have been beautiful ones and thank you also for giving us those treasures.

I've started planning for next years luau (smile) as you know, and hopefully the more people interested, the more involvement, the less work for all of us. But, I hope that we will still be involved to enable us to have fun.

Again, many, many warm mahalo's to you both. Until we see you, take care and God bless.

We are now planning another luau for next year. We are letting people know early enough so that we can set aside things we will need for next year. Since you are the top ogoe people, please be advised that we will be calling on you.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, our membership and myself, our warmest mahalo for you aloha. Until we meet again, take care and God bless.

Dearest Miriam and Philip:

I just wanted to express, from all of us who worked on the luau, from the Board of Directors of the PVS and its membership, and from my family, that we treasure your friendship and the aloha that you've shared with us.

You've been hard and true workers who have seen us through the food drying and all kinds of things we've done for the Hokule'a. The sharing of your house, your lot and food, not to mention the spirit of true friendship will be remembered for a long, long time.

Your donation of the haupia, as well as cooking for the imu crew and letting us dig up your yard is deeply appreciated. I wish that we could adequately express our gratefulness. In any event, if on a personal level, we can be of any help to you, please call us. Until then, take care and God bless.

Dear Pomai:

I've been thinking about you ever since we last talked, and I can't help but feel that you must come to our luau next year. We heard nothing but compliments over the ono food, good entertainment and congenial company.

I smile to myself when I think back over how that luau was put together and wonder whether many people knew of our financial crisis. In any event, I'm writing to say thank you. I thought of the many glowing words I could have used, but I thought that in doing so I might not convey the simple but heartfelt message of mahalo.

Your very generous contribution of $500.00 to the Polynesian Voyaging Society will be going towards reducing part of our deficits. The proceeds of the luau will help erase most of the financial problems.

As soon as we are able, we will send to members of our board and advisory committee a financial statement. Whenever you are ono for kalua pig, please give me a call.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Kawalo,

Please accept my apologies for this late mahalo for all the kokua you contributed towards making the first PVS fundraising luau a success. Your time and effort was greatly appreciated.

I've started planning for next year's luau (smile!) as you know, and hopefully, the more people interested, the more involvement and the less work for all of us. But I know we will still be involved because we enjoy working together.

Again, on behalf of all of us, a warm mahalo for your aloha and kokua. Until then, take care and God bless.

Dear Lillian:

Please accept my warmest mahalo in acknowledgement of the kokua you contributed in helping to make the first PVS fundraising luau a success. Your time and effort was greatly appreciated.

I've started planning for next year's luau (smile!) as you know, and hopefully the more people interested, the more involvement and the less work for all of us. But, regardless, we will be involved because we enjoy working together.

Again, on behalf of everyone involved, mahalo for your kokua and aloha. Until then, take care and God bless.
